Honda SL90 Here is your chance to own a SL90!!! This bike looks great for the age of an unrestored bike. The engine kicks over good, but we have not tried to get it running. The Bike will need a total restoration. The tank looks solid except for rust inside. The pipe appears to be solid. Its missing a few things. If its not on the bike in the pics then I do not have it. The bike is sold with ...

It featured the same basic engine as the HA, but enlarged to 1,159 cc, but with the added weight of the larger body the final drive gearing was reduced from 3.9 to 1 to 4.1 to keep the nippy performance (except the SL90 which retained the 3.9 diff having the power to cope with the higher ratio). The automatic Viva HB was offered from February 1967, and fitted with the ubiquitous Borg Warner ...

The SL90 engine had a third engine mount lug on the top-center of the engine cases, but the lack of this third mount on the ATC125M engine can probably be ignored. If engine mount-rigidity is in doubt, you could create an additional mount from the top of the cylinder head, as the ATC125M has this provision just like the ATC90 and 110. The cylinder and cylinder head should also fit between ...
